

Deadline Finds Nothing Done On Districting

LANSING (AP) — The latest in a long series of deadlines for action on Michigan's legislative apportionment problem passed unnoticed Friday. And, as on most other deadlines, nothing happened.

Gov. George W. Romney and Justice Otis Smith of the Michigan Supreme Court had picked May 15 as the final date for solution of the problem. After that date, Smith said, the state's election schedule becomes critical.

But when the deadline arrived, legislators were dispersed across the state. They took a five-day recess from the problem Wednesday—when they found they were deadlocked on congressional reapportionment and were told they could not legally do anything on legislative districting.

Romney was out of Lansing most of the day on a pre-Michigan Week tour of the state and only one State Supreme Court justice was on hand. Justice Michael D. O'Hara was in his office working, he said, on routine matters.

The latest straw for lawmakers was a letter from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to legislative leaders that the consensus of his staff was that the state constitution does not grant them the power to redistrict their own seats.

Romney, who had asked lawmakers to pass a "standby" plan to avoid election "chaos" in case the state court did not come up with an answer in time for orderly elections, said he thought the legislature should go ahead in its attempts to work out the plan.

He said there was a body of legal opinion that holds the legislature has the "residual, inherent power" to act to avoid a "breakdown in government."

The State Supreme Court was given the job of selecting a redistricting plan that most nearly meets state constitutional requirements when the eight-member, bipartisan commission found it could not agree on a plan.

Armless Mother Has Baby Girl

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An armless housewife, once known to Georgia railroad men as the "child who waves without hands," gave birth to an 8-pound, 2-ounce girl at an Atlanta hospital Friday night.

Eighteen years ago, the former Grace Purce, now Mrs. Harold E. Parker, waved to train engineers with the stubs for arms she has had from birth. She lived near Lovejoy, Ga., and a newspaper campaign raised money for artificial arms when she was six.

Now 20, she has discarded the artificial limbs.

Dixie Group May Boycott Caucus On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate resumes Saturday sessions on the embattled civil rights bill today, with Southern senators talking of boycotting a Democratic caucus Tuesday where amendments proposed by the bipartisan leadership will be considered.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chief strategist of the Dixie forces, said he hasn't decided whether to show up or not. But he told reporters, "I don't see any useful purpose in doing so."

He added some Southerners may go but said he could "argue on the floor just as well."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., one of Russell's lieutenants, said in a separate interview that he will boycott the meeting and that others are expected to follow suit.

With the debate in its 57th day prospects for passage hinge on whether sufficient support for the leadership package of some 70 amendments can be mustered to cut off the Southern talkathon.

Adoption of cloture requires two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Meanwhile, the debate proceeds. The leadership, while calling a Saturday session, let the Senate recess comparatively early Friday night at 7:18.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has invited all Democratic senators to a conference Tuesday morning to discuss the package of amendments worked out with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A conference of Republican senators also is set that day to go over the proposed changes, designed to drum up enough support for the cloture petition.

Johnson And Aides Discuss Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson confers today with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on plans for increasing military and economic aid to South Viet Nam.

Johnson told congressional leaders at a White House meeting Friday that he would ask for more funds to support a heavier U.S. commitment to the Saigon government, stung by an upsurge in terror raids by pro-Communist guerrillas.

McNamara, who returned Thursday from another inspection trip to South Viet Nam, and Rusk briefed 17 Republican and Democratic leaders and the National Security Council.

Rusk had just returned from a North Atlantic Treaty Organization council meeting in The Hague where he asked the Allies to give more assistance to the anti-Communist effort in Viet Nam.

In general the congressional leaders declined to comment on what they had heard at the briefing but Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told newsmen: "There has been no significant change. It is purely a matter of degree. It isn't a very optimistic picture."

After the meeting White House press secretary George Reedy summed it up this way: "I think it is rather obvious there will be a need for additional funds and some appropriate recommendations."

South Vietnamese Report Victory In 2-Day Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The South Vietnamese government said today its forces scored a victory in a two-day battle in southern An Giang Province, killing 37 Communist guerrillas.

The government said its own losses before the firing ended Friday were two dead.

More Landings In Cuba Reported By Exile Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Reports of two additional anti-Castro landings circulated today amid a complaint to the United Nations from Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency — CIA — was behind it all.

The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, a Cuban exile group in Washington, confirmed the landings Friday and said they were carried out as the attack on a sugar mill in Port Pilon diverted the attention of Cuban armed forces.

The committee said the landing was an infiltration move, part of a long-range plan to bolster internal guerrilla forces.

A Spanish language broadcaster in Miami said there were landings on both the north and south coasts of Cuba.

Roa sent a note to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant warning that peace might be endangered by Wednesday's sugar mill raid and by an arms cache found earlier off the Cuban coast.

The note said the sugar mill attack was by a pirate ship "such as the CIA operates from bases in Florida, Puerto Rico and Central America."

"Using these illegal flights of U2 planes over the national territory of Cuba, the CIA obtains information about our military installations for the organization and carrying out of these various attacks," the note continued.

The State Department, in Washington, continued to deny U.S. involvement.

In Puerto Rico, Manuel Ray, leader of an exile action group, resigned his government job. Ray, a former member of Castro's cabinet, has promised to be back on Cuban soil by May 20.

President's Car Is Bullet-Proof

DETROIT (AP)—Now heavily reinforced, the sleek limousine in which the late President John F. Kennedy was shot will be sent to President Johnson this weekend, the Detroit Free Press reported Friday.

The newspaper said the Lincoln Continental, now weighing more than five tons, has been readied at the Ford Motor Co.'s experimental garage in suburban Dearborn. A Ford spokesman would neither confirm nor deny the report.

The car was a bubbletop convertible when Kennedy was killed at Dallas Nov. 22. It now is a hardtop limousine equipped with three-inch bullet-proof tires, and a 500-horsepower engine, the Free Press said. The old engine developed 275-horsepower.

"I don't believe they've made a bullet yet that could pierce that glass," said an unidentified engineer who saw the car. "It's eight panes thick."

The car reportedly arrived at Dearborn last Monday after its body had been "overhauled" at a shop in Cincinnati. Last December, Ford mechanics in Dearborn replaced the Lincoln's blood-spattered carpeting and installed a suspension system to support 1,600 pounds of steel plating and heavier glass.

The car had been in presidential service since June, 1961. Ford leases it to the White House.

Rockefeller Wins Victory In Oregon

Primary Vote Upset Leaves Lodge Behind

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller swept to an upset victory in the Oregon primary that turned the tables on Henry Cabot Lodge and set the stage for a possible California alliance between the two Republican presidential hopefuls.

Lodge men, stunned by the setback in an Oregon race they had expected to win, headed for Los Angeles to talk over their next move.

Rockefeller, the only personal campaigner in a six-candidate field, left Lodge well behind in second place in Oregon's Friday balloting.

California Next

There were reports the Lodge forces were ready to throw their weight behind Rockefeller in California's primary June 2.

Grindle said, however, that the high command of the Lodge movement would explore the situation in general — and California, in particular — at the Los Angeles meeting.

Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who ran third in Oregon, are alone on the ballot there. No write-in votes will be counted in their head-on clash for 86 GOP national convention delegates.

Whatever the Lodge organization does in California, Rockefeller hoped the Oregon victory would thrust him toward another triumph there.

Underdog Again

Rockefeller, cast as the underdog in Oregon, has the same role in California.

Goldwater, who pulled out of the Oregon campaign five weeks ago, was hunting votes in California after writing off the Oregon primary. He said he would be happy to run better than fourth.

With 2,736 of Oregon's 3,251 precincts counted the Republican race stacked up this way: Rockefeller 73,952, Lodge 61,581, Goldwater 39,489, Nixon 38,042, Smith 6,350, Scranton 3,720.

"It went about the way I expected it to," Goldwater said of the Oregon race. "I have 325 delegates now, and Mr. Rockefeller has Oregon's . . . I'm glad he has some. It makes a better race."

President Johnson, unopposed on the Democratic ballot, got 98,501 votes in 2,034 precincts. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace picked up a handful of write-in votes. In the Wisconsin and Indiana primaries Wallace challenged Johnson as a states' rights foe of the civil rights bill. He's on the ballot again in Maryland's primary next Tuesday.

Oregon also nominated candidates for Congress. Only one incumbent, Democratic Rep. Robt. B. Duncan, had primary opposition, and he won renomination over Charles O. Porter, a former congressman trying for a comeback.

FIRST IN 5 MONTHS

NEW YORK (AP)—The upset he scored in the Oregon primary was Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's first significant victory in five months of hard campaigning for the Republican nomination for president. He said his immediate reaction was "deep gratitude."

His top campaign strategists moved quickly today to capitalize on the governor's success.

They began discussing plans to use the results in Oregon as evidence that:

—Republicans want a moderate candidate and Rockefeller is "the leading moderate of the party."

—Rockefeller, who came from behind in the closing days of the Oregon primary with an all-out effort, is the only candidate who can wage the type of fighting campaign needed to get a GOP victory in November.

The GOP leaders who had written off Rockefeller as a serious prospect for the nomination will have to take a new look at him.

Union Members Sue Hoffa For Legal Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six members of the Teamsters Union have filed suit demanding that the union president, James R. Hoffa, and his top command repay the union money that Hoffa and other officials have used to defend themselves in criminal trials.

The six rank-and-file Teamsters, in the U.S. District Court suit Friday, also asked that the court grant an injunction forbidding further payments of such legal expenses.

Estimates of the money already spent are in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It was another in a series of sharp blows to Hoffa's position as boss of the nation's biggest union.

Even as the suit was entered here, Hoffa was sitting in a Chicago courtroom on trial on charges of conspiring to defraud the union in a $20-million loan scheme.

He also is appealing an eight-year jury-tampering conviction in Chattanooga, Tenn. — all of which costs money and keeps him from supervising the day-to-day affairs of the Teamsters, which he has run with an iron hand.

Some union sources have questioned whether Hoffa can remain in power, in the face of the court actions, without the backing of the union treasury.

Others point out that Hoffa has weathered some hard storms in the past.

The six Philadelphia Teamsters who filed the suit are part of the same group who kicked off a fuss in the Teamster high command several weeks ago over the question of Hoffa's legal fees.

Teamsters general counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, agreed with the Philadelphia group that such expenditures are illegal. Some executive board members demanded a full board meeting to consider the question further.

Youths Rally In East Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists launched a mammoth youth rally in East Berlin today, offering three days of entertainment including a concert by the secret police.

Communist officials said they expected about 500,000 youngsters from throughout East Germany to show up. It is the first such rally since 1954, when hundreds used the opportunity to escape to the West.

The Reds can feel fairly safe now. They built the Berlin Wall nearly three years ago and the chances of reaching the West are remote.

About 10,000 guards, armed with submachine guns and aided by police dogs, normally guard the border around West Berlin.

Western intelligence sources said they noted a slight increase in guards since Friday. Hundreds of special trains and buses carried youngsters to the city from scattered towns and villages.

Romney To Seek Reelection For Another Term

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney, a Republican who ended 14 years of Democratic domination of Michigan's state house in 1962, announced today his candidacy for re-election to a second two-year term.

Romney, who resigned as chairman-president of American Motors Corp. to run for governor, has been mentioned as a possible Republican nominee for president, and while not an active candidate, has said he would accept if drafted.

Unopposed on the GOP ticket two years ago, the industrialist will be opposed this time by former State Senator George N. Higgins, a Ferndale auto dealer, in the Aug. 4 primary. Higgins announced some two weeks ago.

Staebler Alone

Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., is the only announced candidate for the Democratic nomination and won endorsement from a majority of Democratic county convention's this week.

"I have found real satisfaction in being governor of Michigan," Romney said in announcing today at a special news conference in his capitol offices while his wife, Lenora, looked on, beaming.

"It had been my intention to refrain from announcing my personal political intentions until after the legislature had completed its regular 1964 session. However, at this time the bulk of the legislative program has been accomplished, with only a few major items left in the balance—except for elections and apportionment."

"The reception given my views last week at the Republican state convention was a tremendous personal experience for both Lenora and me. The unprecedented resolution urging my candidacy and requesting an early announcement cannot be ignored; nor can the consistent urgings of Republicans across the state, independents and some Democrats."

"Therefore, I will seek a second term as governor of Michigan."

Endorsed By Convention

A week ago the state GOP convention urged him to announce then for re-election and endorsed him for a second term.

Romney said between now and election time "my primary dedication will continue to be as a working governor. I do not intend to commence my campaign for several months."

"It is my conviction the future of the nation depends on strengthening citizenship, family life, private initiative, voluntary cooperation, local government and state government."

"Of all the states in the nation, I believe Michigan has the best opportunity to show the way in doing so. In the brief period of 17 months (of his administration) we have made a good start in these directions. I hope it has been sufficient to justify continued public faith and public support."

"I ask the people of Michigan for such continued support and I ask God for his guidance for all of us."

Office Crowded

The governor's office was crowded with newsmen and television and newsreel cameras for the 11 a.m. announcement.

Romney teased the assemblage at first by saying "I have nothing important to say, but I appreciate your being here."

The governor then started reading a six-page statement citing accomplishments of his administration and did not make the actual announcement until he reached the end of the fifth page.

Romney said that in the last 17 months "Michigan has taken great strides forward."

"The last two years have been devoted importantly to building a strong state base from which the problems and challenges of the future can be most effectively answered," he continued.

Some programs of his administration have been only partially realized, Romney added.

The Upper Peninsula, he said, is just starting on the way back from economic doldrums.

"Traffic safety programs must be intensified until traffic accidents and fatalities are reduced," he continued. "Our rate of new job growth must continue to climb. The best way to end poverty is to put people in jobs."

make a report of any abuse of a minor child by parents. The report must be made to the local prosecuting attorney or department of social welfare.

Among other measures signed by Romney were bills to:

—Permit local school boards to help pay the tuition of non-resident students attending community colleges.

—Provide that passenger cars manufactured after Jan. 1, 1965, must have two rear stop lights.

—Make it a misdemeanor to give false information about the age of a minor to help him procure alcoholic beverages.

—Increase from $30,000 to $35,000 the amount which the State Tourist Council can allocate to regional tourist associations for advertising.

—Commission Chairman John Basso said it also would allow acceptance of gifts of money, as in the past have been extended by labor unions and others.

The other port bill would reduce the present requirement of a 60 per cent vote for issuance of general obligation bonds for port development. Only a simple majority of 51 per cent now will be required.

Another bill made law was the so-called "baby-beating bill" that requires physicians to notice then for re-election and endorsed him for a second term.

More Offenses On Point List

Motorists who are conscientious about obeying the traffic laws and keeping their operator's license free of points against their driving record were warned that additional offenses have been added to the point list.

Escanaba Municipal Judge James R. Fitzharris today directed attention to the opinion of the Michigan attorney general, dated April 9, 1964, which will result in the assigning of 4 points to drivers' records for reported convictions.

Delta Programs Michigan Week Doings 7 Days

Delta County is ready for Michigan Week observance starting on Sunday with a program of activities that will last through Saturday, announces Hagle Quarnstrom, Delta County superintendent of schools, who is county chairman.

The preparations for the observance began last year and several months ago the region's nominations for two of the Michigan Week awards—product of the year and achievement of the year—were made. The region's nomination of an Escanaba-made Timber Wall Vacation Home as product of the year lost to the Enstrom helicopter, but Bay de Noc Community College's quick organization and immediate public benefit won the regional community award and is a nominee in the state judging.

The Michigan Week organization headed by Quarnstrom has included these chairmen: Richard L. Hansen, Spiritual Foundations; Mrs. Victor Powers, Government Day; Mrs.

ies of a Spiritual Foundations Day bulletin to Delta County churches for distribution to their members on Sunday. Churches will observe the day by bulletin notices, in sermons and other ways and an ecumenical service at Bethany Lutheran Church at 3 p. m. Sunday commemorating Pentecost Sunday has asked attendance by all Christians, Catholic and Protestant, and all clergymen have been invited to the service. The Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page of Menominee, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, will be the speaker at the service, sponsored by the Delta County Ministerial Association.

Monday, Mayor's Exchange Day will bring Mayor and Mrs. James Edgar of Grand Ledge to Escanaba and send Mayor and Mrs. George Rusch to Grand Ledge. The Rotary, Lion and Kiwanis Clubs will lunch with the visitors at Marco's and in the evening city officials will join the visitors at dinner at the House of Ludington.

Mayor Exchange At Gladstone Mayor R. J. Alexander of Oak Park, Mich., and his administrative assistant, Robert M. Clancy will be guests of the Rotary Club at luncheon and honorees at a civic dinner in the evening at Gladstone High School and Gladstone Mayor Raymond Norton and Mrs. Norton will be feted in Oak Park.

On Tuesday Escanaba's hospitality will be exemplified at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce when the Hospitality Day committee headed by Mrs. Jean Paul Cote and Mrs. Edward Boissineau will work with the Escanaba Woman's Club Civic Committee to serve refreshments to city guests.

An out-of-state car will be stopped in Escanaba and given special hospitality at a dinner with gifts.

Our Livelihood Day on Wednesday will be observed, says Chairman Jack Williams by showing of colored slides and a commentary on Ludington St. portraying the city's sources of livelihood. Delta County Camera Club membership have supplied the slides.

Education Day on Thursday will hear a WDBC broadcast on school dropouts at 10:05 a. m. by Tony Kobasic, William Suriano, Manfred Cerasoli and Tom Newport, and there will be observances on this day and on other days of Michigan Week in both the public and parochial schools.

On Heritage Day the Delta County Historical Society will hold its traditional open house from 2 to 5 p. m. at its museum on Sand Point and welcome the public. Coffee will be served.

The Historical Society is also planning a brief ceremony at the time capsule in Ludington Park when a plaque is placed directing the opening of the capsule which was buried in Escanaba's 1963 Centennial year, in the year 2063.

Mrs. Charles Norton of Gladstone is the new director of the Delta County Museum, succeeding David Coon.

Mrs. Eleonore Sullivan, chairman of Youth Day, says 9 high schools in the county are cooperating in observance of this closing day of Michigan Week. Bay de Noc Community College faculty members will select the winning groups in youth projects and there will also be displays of scrap books and posts.

mate labor crews are also busy getting some 1,250 existing sites at 115 state forest campgrounds into shape for the Memorial Day weekend.

Conservation Department field workers and local labor are putting final touches to more than 200 new state forest campsites in northern Michigan.

Scheduled for public use by mid-June, the additions will boost the state forests' camper capacity by over 800 people per day. They also will hike the potential for camper spending by about $2,400 a day in their local areas.

New Upper Peninsula sites include Ross lake, Schoolcraft county; the Two Hearted river, Luce county; Hog Island Point, Mackinac county; Bay City lake, Mackinac county; the Big Cedar river, Menominee county; the Blind Sucker river, Luce county; and Mead and Merwyn creeks, Schoolcraft county.

Most of the projects come under the Accelerated Public Works program which is designed to relieve unemployment in hard-pressed areas of the state. Local labor has been hired to carry out improvements, with state and federal funds used to finance these activities.

Troopers Arrest Five Teenagers

Five teenagers were arrested by Michigan State Police of the Gladstone Post at 9:40 p. m. Friday in the City of Gladstone and charged with minors being in possession of intoxicants.

The five were taken into custody after the police stopped a car being driven without headlights by Michael James Belongie, 514 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone.

With Belongie were Sherman Bruce Hardwick, 17, of 312 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, Lee Raymond Cretens, 18, of 556 8th Ave., Gladstone, and two minors.

Belongie, Hardwick and Cretens will appear before Justice Albert Mortier in Gladstone. The two minors will be turned over to Probate Court.

South American Students Speak

Miss Lidia Szot and Mario Ramirez, exchange students from South America, spoke to an enthusiastic audience at Bay de Noc Community College Thursday evening.

They said there are several types of schools in their countries, but dissimilar from our high schools and that the government determines what is taught. Mario, though only 16, has "graduated."

The young people said that most South American impressions of North Americans come from movies and tourists.

Miss Szot, of Rosario, Argentina, is a student at Iron Mountain High School as a scholarship delegate of the American Field Service program. In Escanaba she was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson.

Mario Ramirez of Montevideo, Uruguay, is sponsored by Youth for Understanding Teenage Exchange Program and is a student at Mather High School in Munising. He was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. August Gagner of Escanaba.

Uruguay's main industry is livestock and there is very little American investment there, while there are many U. S. industries in Argentina. Besides Argentina's fertile and productive pampas, the nation has a wealth of oil resources, but still must import oil because of the expense of transporting and processing it domestically.

The program was arranged for Spanish students by Mrs. Donald Haapala for Bay de Noc Community College.

Rock 4-H Marks Mothers' Day, Michigan Week

ROCK—The Rock 4-H club held a combination Mothers Day and Michigan Week meeting and program at the Lions club house Wednesday evening, May 13. It was very encouraging that all the mothers and most of the fathers turned out for the occasion. Debra Trombly led the games before the meeting.

The most important business was the reports by various activity chairman. Nancy Weidum reported that the exhibit for Youth Day Michigan Week has been entered. The poster consists of a Upper Peninsula map and the scrapbook was the Rock 4-H historian book.

Mrs. Ahti Waak reported that material for the 4-H signs has been donated by Martin Falck and the Northland Federation.

Cheryl Larson and Tina Mankiewicz reported that the landscaping was progressing satisfactorily.

Mrs. Albert Weidum told the group that sightseeing trips will be taken after school is out, details will be announced later.

Landscaping and outdoor meals are club projects. Leader for outdoor meals is Mrs. Waak with Sally as junior leader. Mrs. John Larson will take care of foods, and Mrs. Victor Mankiewicz will lead the flower and vegetable gardening. Other projects are entomology, rocks and minerals, wild flowers, and others.

After the meeting was adjourned, a program was presented in observance of Michigan week. Members presented some facts which had been compiled in the historian's book. They were: What Is 4-H by Cynthia Niemi; How 4-H Was Started in the States by Debra Sharkey; history of the Rock 4-H by Pamela Sharkey; Our Leaders by Nancy Weidum and Debra Trombly; Rock 4-H activities during the past five years by Hina Mankiewicz and Cheryl Larson; 4-H meetings and projects by Susan Koski; plans for the summer by Donna Beauchamp.

In observance of Mother's Day, each member with a covered box of tissue and a hand made card to his mother. The club closed the activities with a song fest.

Lunch was served by Cynthia, Sally, Cheryl, Debra Trombly and Susan Koski. Sally was the chairman for this meeting activities.

The next meeting will be June 10.

Concrete Makes Neater Yards

Add low concrete retaining walls or curbs to your yard for a trim appearance. The curb can be finished round or flat on top.

If you do not have a walk from your door to the driveway or street, now is a good time to add one. A walk to the incinerator, clothes line and garden are convenient and will add to the beauty of your home as well.

You might make concrete flagstone or stepping stone walks instead of the usual solid path for a different look.

It's easy to work with concrete. Only ordinary tools are needed.

Wood Fillers Can Cover Defects

While wood fillers are sometimes used to cover up sloppy workmanship, it takes real skill to make a perfect patch with them. Thus, the sloppy worker is likely to use them poorly. Various sorts of wood putty are no longer looked down on. Almost everyone — even the most skilled — uses them. They can be used to cover up defects in the wood it self, fill in cracks and make an otherwise rejected piece of wood usable, hide nail or screw holes and thereby make a more perfect job.

No one wood filler will handle all problems. Part of the skill in using them is in making the correct choice.

In Old Days
Old-timers made their own by mixing sawdust and glue.

One advantage, besides cheapness, was that you match the filler with the surface by using sawdust from the same kind of wood.

Ready-mixed fillers are available in a variety of colors now and generally are more durable than homemade preparations. Once dried, the material can be worked just like wood. Nails, tacks and screws will hold in it as though it were the real thing. You can sand it and paint it, but it's usually too dense for staining.

Use it by applying with a putty knife or your fingers. Clean off residue before it dries. Build up layers about a quarter inch thick and let each dry before applying the next.

Keep the can tightly sealed or the solvent will evaporate leaving you with dry, hard unusable filler.

If you need a great deal of filler you can save money with water-mixed wood putty. It comes in a dry, powdered form and mixing with water makes it ready to use.

When dry it is white, which makes no difference when you are painting. For natural finishes, stain by using a water soluble powder mixed into the dry powder. The dried filler can be sanded.

Plain glazier's putty is still a it's in place. It does shrink, but if you treat the wood with linseed oil before filling, you can avoid some of this.

Some use white lead to cover a large surface in place of putty. Smooth with a putty knife, keep workable with linseed oil. Surface must be painted. One drawback is the substance is poisonous, and must be worked with extreme care.

For natural finishes stick to the wood putties — ready-mixed or mix it yourself.

Michigan Week

Michigan has never worked up as much lather over Michigan Week as it has for the observance starting Sunday.

Hundreds of Michiganders will be in New York on Monday for Michigan Day at the World's Fair and there will be Michigan band music and Michigan oratory all over Gotham.

Here at home there will be observances of various kinds in virtually every community of the state. Churches will mark the state's spiritual foundations on Sunday. Mayors will be exchanged on Monday. The state's fine hospitality will get an extra fillip on Tuesday when visitors will be kissed and gifted.

The industries which support the state will get appreciative notice on Wednesday and its schools on Thursday. Friday is heritage day and the occasion for a look backward to the beginnings of the commonwealth's greatness and Saturday will be the traditional Youth Day, emphasizing Michigan's interest and pride in its youth and its devotion to their development for the perpetuation of the state and its improvement.

Michigan Week was conceived by the Great Michigan Foundation of Lansing as an activity to improve Michigan and its national image by enlarging the understanding of its own people and those of the nation about the greatness of the Wolverine State.

This greatness is not all told in the statistics in the brag books about its leadership in the production of automobiles and sour cherries and in pharmaceuticals and education. A state is the sum of its parts and they are many and varied in Michigan.

Michigan Week points this out. While Governor Romney, the Motor Kings and the educational leaders of the state are in the national spotlight at the New York World's Fair there will be school children studying township government and the state's Indian past and many other things which have made modern Michigan.

The message of Michigan Week is that a great state is the product of many people and many labors, some of them rather obscure and humble. The message is that while we Michiganders of today are doing much for our state, we are also the heirs of her old greatness and that we build on strong beginnings.

The message is that we cannot keep Michigan's greatness and meet her problems with involvement in politics alone; that the process also requires exercise of faith and citizenship, support of education, encouragement to our youth and recognition of the roles that industry and labor have played in our evolution.

Michigan Week reminds us of the many justifications for pride in our state. It effectively helps to nourish a state patriotism and the thousands of persons who take part in the observance perform a valuable public service.

Our Senior Citizens

President Johnson has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month and urged Americans to make opportunities for older citizens a reality.

This generation has seen an unprecedented change in the role of elderly Americans. Earlier in this century they became the care of their families, or, lacking families and means, they went to the poor house. The poor house has been abolished in a historic progress toward national affluence despite a greatly increased incidence of the elderly.

People are living longer and they are using a smaller part of their lives for productive labors, so that there is a growing number of retirees. These people present both a problem and a great opportunity for America.

Never before has the nation had a group like them. Previously the retired were largely incapacitated and beyond much useful service to the nation, but this is not true of America's retirees of today. They number millions of persons with skills and useful vigor and form an immense collective reservoir of experience.

Many of these people have problems. Some have been pushed into retirement in an emergent system of security which has not provided adequately for their individual maintenance. The temptation in such circumstances to support political leadership which promises abundant government support is strong.

But the elderly have an obligation, like all citizens, to maintain the nation's strength and one of the threats to it is welfare spending beyond sensible means. The first generation under the national security program are beneficiaries of a system which will bear more heavily on their children than upon them. Security taxes are now a major lien on all incomes.

A big part of our national problem in providing well for the increasing senior citizen group is in reorienting our thinking. We tend to keep old ways and until recently when people retired it was because they had ceased to be useful. Now retirement has more of a character of reward for labors and the new status should assure a restructuring of civic responsibility. The elderly should be looked to for a continuing contribution to the public good. This will be in their own best interest as well as that of the nation.

The churches as well as the government and industry are enlarging their services to elderly and a new arrangement of American society is emerging because of the growing number of the elderly. To realize their potential and make them a great class of contributors instead of dependants is one of America's great social and economic opportunities.

The General Made a Speedy Recovery

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It is now possible to surmise how the Reds expect to win in South Viet Nam.

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, commander of the Communist forces which defeated the French at Dien Bien Phu and now head of the North Viet Nam Red army, has outlined his military strategy in a series of papers being studied by U. S. Army strategists.

In these papers Gen. Giap tells, in his own words, how the Reds won North Viet Nam. Here are selected excerpts:

"The enemy wanted to concentrate their forces (to mop up the Red troops). But by guerrilla action we compelled them to disperse. By successively launching strong offensives on the points they had left relatively unprotected, we obliged them to scatter their troops all over the place in order to ward off our blows."

"The enemy divisions were split into regiments, then into battalions, companies and platoons, to be stationed at thousands of points and posts on the various battlefronts of the Indochina theater of operations."

"The enemy found himself face to face with a contradiction: without scattering his forces it was impossible for him to occupy the invaded territory; in scattering his forces he put himself in difficulties. His scattered units would fall easy prey to our troops."

"On the other hand, if he concentrated his forces to move from the defensive position and cope with us with more initiative, the occupation forces would be weakened and it would be difficult for him to hold the invaded territory. Now, if the enemy gives up occupied territory, the very aim of the war of re-conquest is defeated."

So the enemy," says Giap, dispersed his forces to occupy many strong points.

As "the enemy's forces (became) more and more scattered, we then advocated the (wider) development of guerrilla warfare," Giap continues, "transforming the (enemy's) rear into our front line. Our units operated in small pockets, with (more) independent companies penetrating deeply into the enemy-controlled zone to launch guerrilla warfare (and) establish bases. . . . It was an extremely hard war . . . in all domains: military, economic and political. . . . We gradually formed a network of guerrilla bases."

"On the map showing the theater of operations . . . 'red zones' . . . began to appear right in the heart of the occupied areas. . . . The front was nowhere, it was everywhere. . . . The center of gravity of the front was gradually moving toward the enemy's rear."

The additional guerrilla pockets, says Giap, caused "the enemy" to scatter his units out even more and nailed them to these scattered outposts.

"The essential thing," Giap continues, "was to destroy the enemy's manpower by constant nibbling away." The scattering of the enemy's units made it possible for Giap's admittedly inferior forces to do that "nibbling."

While Giap's "enemy" was scattering his forces and being nibbled, the Communists were "building" their forces. Giap says the Reds "went gradually from independent companies operating separately to mobile battalions, then from battalions to regiments and divisions."

In this war, says Giap, "political activities were more important than military activities and fighting less important than propaganda. . . . (Thus) our army has always organized days of help for peasants in production work and in the struggle against flood and drought. . . . Land . . . was confiscated and shared out" to win the co-operation of the peasants in the war.

Finding The Way

Time To Bypass The Book

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

Where would you find that listing in the book—unless you read the New Testament?

In similar fashion, the late Sen. Robert Taft, familiarly known as "Mr. Integrity," knew how to go beyond the listings in the book. During the Nuernberg trials he was concerned about the moral responsibilities of those judgments.

It was a time when he was prominently considered as the next Republican candidate for the presidency. It was an issue on which he might have been silent. Yet the blunt and honest senator from Ohio insisted that there was no justification for the trials, which violated the fundamental principles of American law that a man cannot be tried under the ex-post facto statute.

He was taunted by his enemies, pilloried by his competitors — yet his was a voice that was raised at a needful time.

In a time when responsible social action and imaginative understanding of so many situations are required, none of us can settle for "playing it safe." Some of the traditional structures may falter. Some accustomed attitudes will have to be rethought.

Advances in civilization have been made at those moments when men have been willing to forsake the listings and run for the plane, when bold imagination, positive actions have given a lift to the morale of humanity.

Two little tots, twin three-year-old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Saxon, of Fairport, were alone yesterday when the family car in which they were playing, caught fire and they were burned to death. The mother made a futile attempt to save them and managed to pull one of them out of the car, but the child died soon afterward in the Manistique hospital. It is believed the children found some matches in the car and ignited them.

Ann Landers

Boy No Good But Girl Pines

Dear Ann Landers: What shall we do about our 15-year-old daughter? Last year Josephine started to run around with a 19-year-old boy who worked the night shift at a filling station down the street. The boy is no good.

My husband and I both told Josephine a dozen times that she must not see him but she used to sneak out the bedroom window at midnight and even later. Twice my husband had to go down to the station and bring her home.

Last week the boy was arrested for stealing out of the cash register and forging his boss's name to checks. We were received when they came and got him.

Josephine is taking this awfully hard. Her appetite is poor and she cries all the time. I learned this morning that she has been sleeping in the dress she wore the last time she was with him. She says it smells of gasoline and brings back pleasant memories.

What shall we do with her?

—UNHAPPY PARENTS
Dear Parents: This girl is out of control and has been for a long time. She needs the skilled help of a professional counselor—and she needs it now. Call your city health department for guidance.

Dear Ann Landers: Please print my letter for other wives who may be getting fed up with dishes, kids, laundry, in-laws, church work and a tired husband.

I had a cheap and revolting affair with a man I've known for years. He, too, was married but swore he had been in love with me since college. I fooled myself into believing my life was dreary and unexciting and that I needed a new romance to restore my joie d' vivre.

After two clandestine meetings I felt ashamed and degraded. When he told me about three of my good friends with whom he has had affairs I was so shocked at his lack of integrity that it made me ill.

I've closed the door on that part of my life for good, but how can I be sure he will not gossip about me as he did the others? Please answer my letter in print but make no reference to the city. Thank you.

—LESSON LEARNED

Dear Learned: You can't be sure, but you can hope that a man with a big mouth will not be believed.

A damaged reputation is often the result when people operate outside the framework of behavior that is acceptable in our society.

You say you have learned your lesson and I hope it's true. Consider yourself fortunate. The price you paid is relatively modest measured against the number of women who have lost everything for doing the same thing.

Dear Ann Landers: My parents are fine people of limited means. My husband's parents are well-to-do and have made it clear that they have nothing in common with my parents so we do not have them over together.

Our little girl who is 18 months old is the first grandchild on both sides so all four grandparents make quite a fuss over her. Whenever my in-laws come to the house, they bring expensive toys, silk and organza dresses, fancy bonnets and so on. My parents bring nothing but their smiling faces and their loving hearts.

Do you feel that when the child gets older she will be partial to the grandparents who bring the gifts? I worry about this and would like your opinion.—YOUNG MOTHER

Dear Young: Love, respect and affection cannot be bought—and children are less susceptible than adults. It's how people treat us that determines what we feel about them. If your parents are loving and kind to your child this is enough.

Thousands Of Beef Calves In Delta's Pastures

During April and to the middle of May about 2,000 beef calves are being born in Delta County.

The number increases every year and this year's crop is probably the largest in the history of beef breeding in the county, said Joseph L. Heirman, Delta County director of extension services for Michigan State University. The number will undoubtedly continue to increase, said Heirman.

The reason so many calves are dropped in such a short period of the spring, said Heirman is so they can run with their mothers on pasture all summer. Because they're on pasture the mothers develop milk for their offspring and this is an economical way to put size and weight on the calves. Grass is a stimulant for milk production.

"We need calves in the fall," said Heirman "to go into the grain feed lots. And this process brings them to about the right weight, about 450 pounds in October for the feed calf sales.

"After the calf has been weaned in October and sold as a feeder calf the brood cow can be carried through the winter on just roughage. This is important because the beef breeding process is highly competitive and must be as economical as possible. (All the states in the Midwest are in the beef business.)

"The number of cattle fed out in Michigan feed lots far exceeds the number of feeder calves produced in the state, which means that we're an import state for feeder calves," said Heirman. "In fact we're only supplying about 30 per cent of the feeder calves we need for our Michigan lots from within the state.

"The picture has been changing rapidly. At one time we used to import a lot of feeder calves from the West, from Montana and Wyoming and such states. These calves now are going farther west for feeding out — to California — instead of to the Midwest. The population increase on the West Coast is making a big market there. At one time Chicago was the slaughter center of the world and today we have slaughter centers at several places in the nation. "In the Midwest practically every state has land that's suitable for feeder calf production and states like Indiana, Illinois and Iowa are beginning to produce more calves. The Upper Peninsula can more than double the present production of calves on available lands."

Ceramic Tile Job Made Easy

Ceramic tile has moved into the kitchen as a countertop work surface. New epoxy tile adhesives and grouts have made it easier to install the tile, as well as provide resistance to heat, chemicals and stains.

The tiles can be installed over 3/4-inch exterior grade plywood or over the previous surface as long as it is solidly attached. If plywood is used, 1/4-inch gaps should be left between the sheets. These gaps are filled with epoxy setting material to insure that there is no shifting at a later time. The setting material also is spread on the plywood in a 1/4-inch coat and the tile pressed firmly into it.

The mortar should be allowed to set overnight, after which epoxy grouting material is spread on the face of the tiles and into the joints with a trowel or a putty knife with a wide blade. The surface epoxy is washed off the face of the tiles and off the trowel or knife with warm water.

Actually there are two types of epoxy mortar, one known as AAR-11, the other as UG-11. Either can be used for both

PLASTER PATCH

A new plaster patch should be allowed to harden for at least eight hours before attempting to sand it down level with the surrounding surface. If this leveling process is not carried out, the patch will be even more conspicuous after it has been painted.

'Asking Price' Has Wide Range

What do the words "asking price" mean to you when you see them in a house-for-sale advertisement?

Quite obviously, they mean the owner is willing to take less for his house than the price quoted in the ad. In other words, he has placed a higher price on the house than he thinks it is worth and one he doesn't expect you to pay.

It's kind of a game the seller and the prospective buyer play. It's very much the same thing that goes on between an automobile dealer and a new car purchaser, who begin negotiations with a listed price neither party intends to observe.

This type of bargaining, inflated with an unrealistic asking price, has been going on in one way or another throughout the world for thousands of years. In many countries, it is standard practice to bargain over the price of almost everything sold. Here, it is followed for some peculiar reason only with certain products, with no apparent pattern to the sales picture.

There's no regulation that prevents a house seller from advertising an asking price. It may, in fact, have some psychological value in providing a starting base for a successful deal. But at least one member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Lawrence Curtis of Sioux City, Iowa, believes a real estate broker should never use an asking price in attempting to sell a house. It is an admission, he says, that the broker will take almost any offer within reason to make a sale so he can collect the commission. It is also an admission, according to Curtis, that the property is overpriced. If the listing broker sincerely believes the price is beyond the market, Curtis feels he should tell the owner so and explain why.

We'd like to get our readers' view points on this matter. If you see the words "asking price" in an ad, are you in any way prejudiced in doing business with the seller? Or do you just accept this as a harmless general practice? Would you rather have the seller of a house give the exact price he wants with no room for bargaining? Or, don't you care either way?

Hiding Room's Faults Creates Storage Space

AP Newsfeatures

Bare walls and window areas may be a blessing when we are trying to find a solution for an eyesore like an ugly radiator or a jutting air conditioning machine. It is often easier to work with bare background. In trying to disguise the protruberances, we may give new architectural interest to that area and even get additional storage space.

When faced with the problem of an ugly radiator in a living room for instance, interior designer Michael Greer reset the window and radiator by building a niche in the form of an arch for curtains. Panels in applied flat moldings are used above a segmental arch and flanking the windows are recesses, bookcases and cupboards. A cornice matching the rest of the room gives more importance too, to an otherwise ordinary window wall, he points out. An accomplishment of this sort may take some floor space, but rewards are well worth it.

Greer prefers classical and neoclassical style arches rather than Tudor or Gothic styles. If one is seeking architectural interest in a room, much can be done with cornices and baseboards, proper architectural moldings that have all but vanished, he says.

An area of a large room may be used to give a room an architectural look and at the same time achieve storage space, Greer says. But he favors the new storage spot looking as if it just happened to use the architectural achievement for storage rather than giving the impression that it had to be built for the storage function.

Architects and builders are recognizing the need for more

CARE WITH ACID

Acid solutions are sometimes used to clean the whitish substance that collects on the outside of brickwork when water has brought salts to the surface. Such solutions must be handled with care while wearing rubber gloves and must always be mixed in wooden or glass containers, never in metal.

RADIATOR is hidden and architectural interest added to the room when a segmental arch is built out over the window. Curtains hang straight, disguising the radiator. Interior designer Michael Greer placed the bureau plat near the window at an angle so that it projected less into the room and became a part of both decorations and furnishings.

architectural interest in newer homes as they arrive at practical solutions also for housing air conditioners, television sets and heating devices.

But home owners who would solve such problems in older homes or merely embellish their bare walls may need professional help. Skill is required in determining the exact proportions for an architectural project of this sort. Many do-it-yourselfers are experienced enough to proceed cautiously on a project such as this, perhaps with the help of a carpenter. Books on architecture can give pointers on arches, so that the architectural treatment to be used around the window may be sketched with the proper moldings to be applied and their dimensions before the project is begun.

Miami Ships Whole Garden

A $250,000 garden, including 20-foot palm and coconut trees, date and fig trees and exotic flowers, was shipped from Miami to Grand Bahama Island by chartered freighter to landscape a new hotel.

In a series of trips, the ship also carried yews, silver buttonwoods, Queensland umbrella trees, 300 privet hedge plants, 500 morning glory plants, and enough grass seed to sow five acres of lawn. There also were jasmine, bougainvillea and iris, day lilies, bird of paradise, monkey-apple and spanish bayonet plants.

The plants were set in a temporary area pending transplanting to the Lucayan Beach Hotel's 16-acre garden.

GRAB BARS

When grab bars are placed at strategic locations around the bathtub and the shower stall, it is important that the bars be attached directly to the studs behind the walls. Any other method of fastening risks the chance that the grab bar might come loose in an emergency.

Yearly Charm Added To Home

A year-by-year improvement plan can turn the house that Jack built into a pretty special little castle with its own personality.

The idea is to seek little finishing touches that spell charm for your particular house so that it is set apart from others, adding innovations as the budget permits.

You can do it with small investments such as a bucket or two of paint. Or you can go way out with sizable investment that include statuary and rose arbors.

A weatherbeaten shingled home with just the right shade of blue-green shutters can pale weathered homes with conventional white or yellow or gray shutters. Window boxes of red and white petunias with trailing variegated ivy can further enhance this look.

At the seashore an ordinary contemporary stucco house can be as delicious looking as a birthday cake painted the just-right Portuguese pink with a white roof. An open-work brick wall used as a screen for privacy at the terrace has an indefinable charm, yet may be achieved by the home handyman on a weekend. This is the type of wall that is built by laying bricks one-half brick apart with the next row of bricks placed over the opening. It will need a foundation, mortar and sturdy corners. Bricks should be painted white. Cinder blocks are effective used this way also. Banks of flowers on the side can add to the picture book charm.

Clearing trees can be a sizable investment but when this opens up the area around a mountain retreat, a Shangri La environment may be created instead of a little house set in a bog. If one has had the foresight to build a mountain house high with lots of glass and a big open deck, it may be loaded with plants for color.

Little ornamental pools can add a luxury look to simple settings.

A free-form dug pool may require nothing more than a dug hole lined with sand into which the plastic liner is inserted. Put some lily pads in it, and a few flowers set in the rocks around it, and you have achieved a tranquil spot.

All sorts of fountains, plastic and metal, are available within the smallest budget. A fountain that looks too plastic may be weathered by various means, including giving it a greenish metal look by rubbing on some paint with a cloth. Some fountains are operated with garden hose attached to an outdoor faucet, others to an outdoor faucet, others require pumps.

There are old-English, Empire and Italian designs available for contemporary, traditional and country-style homes in lavabos, bird baths, fountains. Many brackets and fountains may be plugged right into the house wall.

Distinctive beautifiers outdoors include statuary and urns. Tall urns laden with colorful pots of flowers placed on the patio or at the entrance of the house can do wonders for an ordinary little house with a drab entranceway. But good landscaping is important to the beauty of any home and should be thought of as a long-range program if the proper plan can't be evolved immediately, rather than settling for static looking shrubs.

Statuary can turn a small garden into a miniature Versailles.

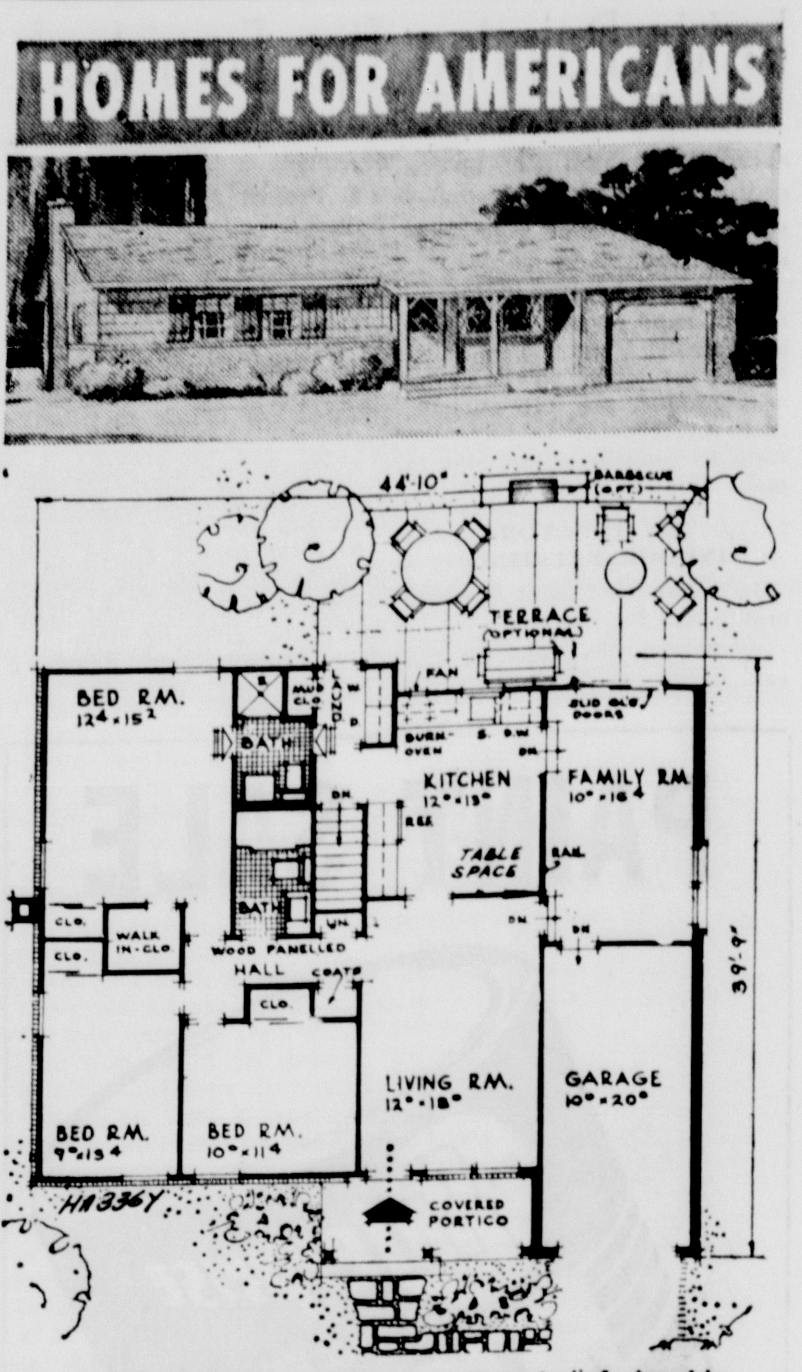

For example a small area of a tiny Cape Cod style house took on exceptional beauty with statuary, flowers and terracing.

First the owners built a concrete patio, 8 by 20 feet, adjoining the living room. Another year they added an awning above the patio. And another year a half-circle rock wall was built to frame a terrace off the patio. In the center of the 20 by 12 foot terrace a small rock garden cradles a metal bowl in which stood a statue of Narcissus. On the 2-foot wall was a white bust of Apollo, tree geraniums set in massive ceramic containers, and a handsome metal heron. A border of varicolored perennial and annual flowers are in easy-care beds around the rock wall, one side nestling into a slope.

FLYING GEESE wall plaques about 16 inches long painted in natural colors make a beautiful decoration for any informal room. They are just the thing for that big space over a sofa or low bookshelves. Pattern 470, which gives actual-size cutting and painting guides for these birds as well as direction and outline of materials, is 35c. It also is included in the Bird and Animal Packet No. 76 for $1.

BUDGET-PRICE HOUSE, with 1,405 square feet, designed to fit on any 60-foot lot, has a well-planned kitchen with generous-size dining area. Use of a railing between kitchen and family room adds apparent spaciousness. Family room has sliding glass doors to outside. Practical back entrance has mud closet, washer and dryer and entrance to bath, so that children do not have to track through carpeted areas. The handsome exterior features maintenance free brick. Wood shingles add length. Plan HA336Y was designed by Herman York, 90-04 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y. 11432.

- ★ You can make advance payments of any amount at any time, or pay in full—without penalty. (We encourage borrowers in good times to pay ahead on their loans).
- ★ Your monthly payments include real estate taxes and fire insurance. You have no big tax bills coming due once or twice yearly. These funds are not held dormant in an escrow account, but are applied directly to the loan, reducing the balance and saving you interest charges.
- ★ Additional loans up to $1,000, not to cause the balance to exceed the original loan, can be obtained at no additional cost to the borrower, providing the property value warrants the loan and the account is in good standing.
- ★ Long terms range to 25 years — depending on the location and age of the property and the age of the applicant.
- ★ Your D & N "Open-end" mortgage permits additional loans for remodeling or other worthwhile purposes without refinancing.

Spring Tuneup Time On Mower

Regardless of the type of lawn mower you own—power mower or hand mower—give it a spring tune up before it's time to cut the grass.

Cleaner Air
Before any work is done, disconnect the spark plug. Clean the air cleaner on your power mower. Without it, your mower would get so clogged with dust that it couldn't operate.

The parts should be cleaned in gasoline. Work in a well ventilated area, preferably outside and well away from any flame or spark.

If your mower uses an oil bath filter, drain the old oil and replace with fresh oil, once the filter parts have been cleaned. Metal foil filters have an element that should be soaked in clean oil and drained after it has been cleaned. Dry filters should be cleaned but not oiled.

Check the spark plug and replace if necessary.

Well Adjusted
Blades should be adjusted for proper cutting height. If the blade seems dull after a few cuttings, it may need grinding.

Reel type mowers—whether power or hand—generally need adjusting. Hold a piece of paper between the reel and the knife blade. Turn the reel slowly by hand. The paper should be cut along the entire length of the knife. If it isn't, adjust the knife. Check your owner's manual for instructions.

A reel mower that seems dull may simply lack adjusting. When the reel does get dull have it sharpened professionally.

Before you use your mower, regardless of the type, tighten all nuts, bolts and screws.

Lubricate at all oiling points. Use light grease on the axle.

An accumulation of oil or grease from last year may have picked up considerable dirt. Clean with a solvent before lubricating.

Men Like Old Comfy Chairs

AP Newsfeatures

Men are creatures of habit when it comes to home furnishings and their comfort, a good thought to keep in mind when decorating that first home, says Mary Morrison Kennedy, architect and interior designer. She discovered that fact in decorating more than 31,770 rooms for an international hotel chain.

"When a man finds a room setting that pleases him, he'll go back to it over and over again. Men aren't too fussy, but they like what they've been used to and know. They don't relish change," she says.

In the several decades she has been sizing up their whims, she has found men like cheerful colors, particularly red, rather than watered-down colors, and dislike little feminine doo-dads like bureau dollies. They don't like clutter, such as unnecesary furniture and they don't care for sofa beds," she says.

Her answer to clutter has been to cut down the number of pieces of furniture in a room in some instances from eight or 10 to five, mainly replacing dual purpose furniture.

Hotels are catering to men in other ways, she says, such as providing ice cube machine and small coffee makers. Men are impatient when it comes to wanting ice or coffee.

Most hotels are furnished on the basis of individual characteristics of the hotels and regional preferences. But men have developed a tremendous interest in antiques these days, says Mrs. Kennedy, and she is using more antique reproductions. In Minneapolis where they "don't like conspicuous furniture" she did 150 rooms in French reproductions brought from Paris. The furniture was used also in New Orleans, Washington, Boston and New York "where people have the best taste," she says.

"We've found that one magnificent piece in a room makes a tremendous impression and is a great conversation piece. We'll use a vitrine with figurines or a marble-top commode with a handsome mirror to achieve importance.

Eighteenth Century French furniture may be too pretentious for the average home, she says. French Provincial or English furniture is more livable.

Regional preferences do enter into consideration when she is on a purchasing mission for the hotels of the Sheraton system for whom she heads up a department of design and architecture. Spanish and contemporary furniture goes over big in Puerto Rico, Danish furniture is popular in Caracas; rattan and contemporary with plastic tops and leather bindings is a big hit in Hawaii. The early American treatment has been given to rooms in Chicago, Washington, San Francisco, Houston, Louisville.

Necessary pieces of furniture like television sets look out of kilter with antiques, but Mrs. Kennedy solves problems as they arise. In Philadelphia she had an artist paint the television sets, with little curtains, ala Punch and Judy.

Keep Workshop Looking Neat

It's highly unlikely you'll ever see a home workshop that bears any resemblance to those glistering layouts that occasionally make an appearance in some publications. The housekeeping chores involved in keeping such workshops spotless would prevent them from ever being used for making or fixing things.

Conceding, then, that a certain amount of disorder is inevitable, it still is possible to keep a home workshop reasonably neat, clean and safe with a minimum amount of trouble. The secret is in making it easy to put things in their proper places, whether it be tools, nails, lumber, sawdust or oily rags.

If you have a holder for screwdrivers, you're likely to return a screwdriver to it rather than placing it on a bench. If you have individual containers for nails and screws of different sizes, you won't find the fasteners all over the place. If a lumber-storage rack is convenient, pieces of wood will wind up there rather than on the floor. And metal containers for sawdust and rags not only will encourage neatness, they'll help to prevent fires.

In planning a workshop, you can make it easier for yourself by remembering certain fundamentals. Here are some of them:

If the workshop is large enough to keep your table saw in the center of the room, fine. If it isn't, better put retractable rubber casters on the legs of the saw stand so that it can be moved to the center when you're working with large pieces of wood.

It will be difficult to keep your tools from rusting if the workshop is in a damp basement. A dehumidifier of some sort may be a necessity.

Sweeping a basement floor will be a lot easier if you cover the concrete with resilient tiles or some other type of smooth flooring.

Entirely aside from the regular lighting, consider the use of a lamp for a specific area where you may be doing fine work.

Where you don't want the sounds of power tools reverberating through the house, acoustical ceiling tiles will do much towards muffling those sounds. Other preventive measures: see that all motor belts are neither too tight nor too loose; place rubber cushions on tool stands which tend to rattle; and, if there is a workshop door, keep it closed when a machine is operating.

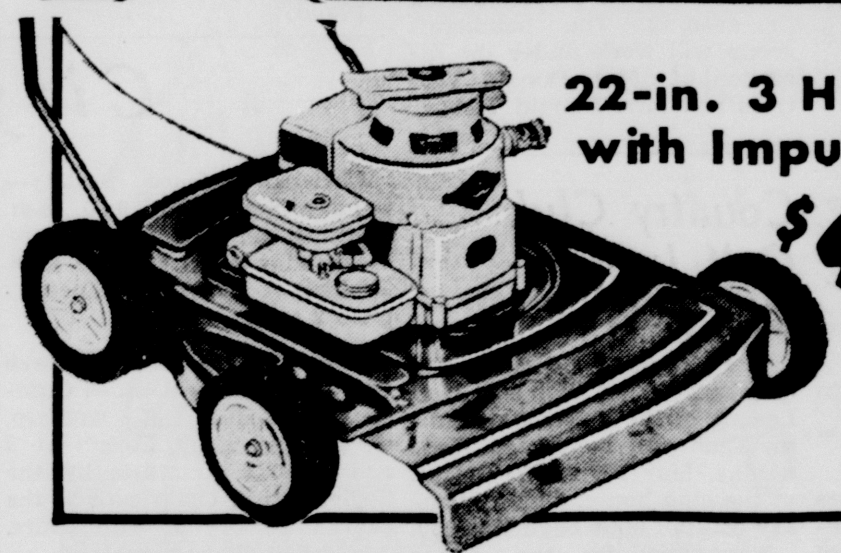

If there are children in the family, keep power tools locked when you aren't there. This can be somewhat a nuisance if you have a number of such tools, which is a good reason for enclosing the workshop area so that the door can be locked.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Headquarters during the three days will be the Bonefeld Furniture Store.

Poppies, which will be distributed throughout the city on this date, have been fashioned by disabled veterans who receive payment for their work. Auxiliary members provide all materials to veterans for making the poppies, free of charge. All other work done in connection with the event is on a volunteer basis. Thousands of the blossoms are distributed here each year, Mrs. Gifford said.

Contributions received by volunteer Auxiliary members who offer poppies to passersby on street corners throughout the city on Poppy Days will be used exclusively for veteran rehabilitation and child welfare work, Mrs. Gifford emphasized. ## Rewiring Old Home Is Must Remodeling an older home these days without rewiring it might be compared to building a boat in the middle of the Sahara Desert. Rewiring without a good plan for present and future electrical household needs is almost as ridiculous.

An ideal guide to follow when wiring or rewiring a house is the list of "Gold Medalion" Home Standards. A "Gold Medalion" is awarded by electric utilities to homes that are adequately wired, equipped with modern electric appliances, and heated electrically.

Here are some of the electric features a home owner can enjoy in a home that has been remodeled for better electric living.

Full house power: each room has outlets and power enough for the many appliances that make electric living comfortable.

ble and convenient. No point along the baseboards of any room is more than six feet from an electric outlet.

Above — average 1 lighting: proper lighting is provided for all family activities, including reading, shaving, watching television, and entertaining. Good lighting inside helps decorate each room. Outside it adds dramatic effects and discourages prowlers.

Electric heating and cooling: electric heat is clean, quiet and comfortable; with air conditioning, it will have perfect indoor "weather" all year long. Windows stay shut against outdoor noise, dirt, and irritant, such as pollen, and there are no uncomfortable blasts of heat or chilly, drafty floors and walls.

The dripless type of paint is especially good for basement walls and other porous surfaces

Elegance Brought Careful Plans, Into The Kitchen Better Shelves

AP Newsfeatures

Elegance has hit the kitchen. Flour and sugar canisters have been put into cupboards and oil paintings and wood carvings have gone to the walls.

One roomy kitchen devised by designer Evelyn Gablow features accessories from many countries.

An old hanging English lighting fixture of patina shaded brass hangs from the ceiling. On walls are a painting from France, wood clock and cherub from Holland. There are faience jars from Portugal, a rope basket from Ireland, a madonna from Spain and lovely English lustre ware.

"I played down color in this kitchen except what is available in the accessories and the natural Belgian linen curtains," Mrs. Jablow explains.

The kitchen, an old-fashioned one, has the much coveted high ceiling and white wall tiles found in apartment buildings of long ago. It has a pantry, something every woman should have, but usually only available in older homes and apartments, she says.

"A pantry with additional sinks and drainboards is a blessing, handy for all sorts of jobs from hand laundry to organizing floral arrangements. It's the ideal place to prepare food for parties. The modern home needs a pantry more than any other area, particularly for storage needs," she says.

Mrs. Jablow designs furniture and accessories, a good deal of it from stainless steel. So when she saw the stainless steel sinks, vintage 1929, in this apartment, she decided to use the metal in other areas, highlighting it with the accessories from abroad.

She moved a few favorite pieces like her old black commercial range gas stove to the new apartment. Over it she installed a chic stainless steel hood of her own design, with a tambour-style edging. Between it and the stove is a drop-leaf table of the metal on casters with maple cutting board surface.

Below the sinks she used the metal as a base front with a tambour sliding storage area. Above it is an old French wooden cabinet. The steel was used as panel inserts in other metal cabinets in the kitchen.

A little wooden milking stool serves as a low counter. An ideal spot for preparing foods, she points out.

"Wood lends a particular kind of softness to this metal, enhancing it all the more," she says.

PATCHING PLASTER

In patching plaster, stucco or similar materials, the patch will hold better if the crack or other opening is made into the shape of an inverted V — so that the crack is wider at the top than at the bottom. This can be done effectively by running a beer-can opener along the crack.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Whether it is stacks of books on the desk and packed away in boxes, or dozens of paint cans standing on the basement floor, every home-owner soon finds a number of reasons why his house doesn't have enough shelves.

The shelves you plan yourself — whether you put them up or have the job done — will suit your needs better than anything that comes with any house, unless you had it designed yourself.

For Books

An 8-inch deep shelf will take care of most books, but others will need 12 inches or more. If the shelves are fixed, vary the distance between shelves as well. If they are adjustable, vary height to suit.

Allow yourself a little more than an inch of finger room above the tops of books.

As a guide to measure by, a 12-inch record measures a quarter-inch more than that all around when it's in its cardboard jacket.

In general, deeper shelves look better at the bottom, shallower ones at the top.

On the market is an attractive shelf stock measuring 1 1/2 inches thick, handsomely rounded in front. You'll need fewer supports, since it won't sag. But it's usually expensive. Extra supports under cheaper shelves won't cost as much.

Keeping Costs Low

If the shelves are for basement or garage, the cheapest lumber will do. Even closet shelves can be economy grade lumber. There's no reason for buying the finest grade lumber available for the living room either if you intend painting the shelves.

There are many ways to mount shelves. The old-fashioned shelf bracket has turned into a handsome item. There are movable brackets that fit into mounting strips which, in turn, are mounted to the wall.

Ways To Save Money

Special hardware runs up the cost of shelves. You can make joints for short shelf spans by using nails and glue in a plain butt joint. Extra support at shorter intervals will cut the amount of stress on the joint.

You can cut cleats of short bits of wood, mount these to the sides and rest the shelves on them. If you have the power tools to do it, you can dado the sides and fit the shelf into the dado.

A back — a sheet of plywood or hardboard — will add stability to a movable bookcase.

How To Remove Rings On Table

QUESTION: There is a white ring on our dining room table. It was left there by a hot dish. It is not too noticeable, except when the light shines on it at a certain angle. We do not wish to revarnish the entire table, but if there is some other way to remove the ring, we'd like to try it. We already used a commercial preparation, but it didn't work.

Can you help us?

ANSWER: White spots usually can be removed from a varnish finish by rubbing the area with powdered pumice, which can be purchased in most hardware stores. The powder is mixed with light mineral or machine oil until it forms a paste. Using a rubbing pad or a piece of felt, rub the mixture back and forth in the direction of the grain. Every few minutes, wipe the oil off the surface of the wood and see whether the spot has disappeared. If not, apply more mixture and repeat the process.

When the ring is gone, clean the area with a dry rag. Be sure all traces of oil are removed. Sometimes this procedure will get rid of the white ring but leave a slightly dull spot. If that occurs, rubbing it with rottenstone and oil will restore the sheen. The rottenstone-oil mixture is applied and rubbed the same as the pumice-oil combination.

Ward Thompson, Augustana College senior from Escanaba, is a threat to break his own College Conference of Illinois pole vault record in the annual conference meet today at Rock Island. Thompson set the record of 12 feet 8 inches last spring. He has gone as high as 12-10 1/2 this year.

Al Erickson of Escanaba is back with Springfield of the Eastern League this season and is regarded as one of the top hitters on the Giants' farm club. Erickson, who signed with the Giants as a catcher, is now primarily a left fielder who fills in behind the plate only when needed. He recently belted a homer as Springfield defeated York 5-2.

Former Marquette high school and Northern Michigan University athlete Jim Karabetsos was resigned as basketball coach at Ashland, a member of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference. He leaves the post after two years to continue his college studies at the University of Indiana.

Ray Sibley, a Wakefield freshman, broke the all-time Michigan-Wisconsin Conference broad jump record with a leap of 21 feet in the event this week. Gordon Gimski of Hurley set a new Ironwood track record of 4:42.5 for the mile. Ironwood took team honors with 55 1/2 points and was paced by Tom Laabs who won the high hurdles in 15.8 seconds, the lows in 21.7 and the high jump at 5-7.

Menominee, defeated in tennis by Wakefield in the first match of the season, now has run up six straight net victories. Latest victim of Coach Con DeJardin's Maroons was Escanaba, suffering a 6-0 shutout.

It was bound to happen sooner or later this spring. With shot putters firing the 12 pound ball as though it had wings, an Upper Peninsula athlete finally cracked the 50 foot barrier. Norway's Steve Burr reached 50 feet 4 1/2 inches in a dual meet against Crystal Falls. The Trojans won the meet, 57-52, by copping the final mile relay event.

Soo Blue Devil athletes set two new school records in a recent dual meet against Rudyard. Jeff Riordan lowered the low hurdles record to 21.9 and Bob VanKirk the 440 yard mark to 53.3. Soo dominated the meet, 103 to 24.

Bob Pearson of Marquette turned in a pair of spectacular times in the hurdles as the Redmen whipped Ishpeming 75 to 34 in a dual meet. He cruised the highs in 15.5 seconds and the lows in 20.9, but the latter were run on a straightaway rather than on the curve which is used in the U. P. finals at Marquette. The low hurdle record is 20.4 and the high hurdle standard is 15.4.

Dan Purple of Gwinn turned in a prodigious leap of 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump in a dual meet against Negaunee. Purple, who will be in action here along with Pearson and a host of other outstanding athletes, is the Upper Peninsula Class A-B high jump champion, setting the current record of 6-1 1/2 in the finals last spring.

Duke Connects But Mets Still Defeat Giants

By The Associated Press

"I hope Snider gets to play and I get to pitch. I'll show him what kind of an easy club we are."

Tracy Stallard, 26-year-old right-hander of the New York Mets, got his wish—he pitched to Snider.

But San Francisco's 37-year-old veteran lined a pinch single and knocked in the Giants' first run in the fifth inning Friday night.

The Mets, however, still showed Snider and the Giants what kind of team they are by winning their third straight game, 4-2.

Stallard uttered his mish a month ago after the Mets sold Snider to the Giants. Upon departing, Snider remarked that the Mets were a terrible club and that he couldn't get inspired to play his best with a poor team.

Stallard quickly and bitterly came to his team's defense, asserting Snider "loafed all the time" while with the Mets and "tried to live on his reputation."

The Mets were leading 2-0 and Stallard was pitching a two-hitter when Snider batted for Bob Bolin Friday night. Jim Davenport had tripled and Jose Pagan had walked. Snider hit Stallard's first pitch into right field, sending Davenport home.

The Giants didn't get any more hits off Stallard, but the angry young Met had to leave the game after six innings because his arm stiffened in the chilly weather.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles drubbed Pittsburgh 6-0, Philadelphia blanked Houston 4-0, St. Louis whipped Milwaukee 10-6 and Cincinnati belted Chicago 10-5.

The Giants tied the game in the fifth as Pagan scored on an infield out, but the Mets won in the eighth with two runs. Joe Christopher walked, and Jim Hickman singled to left. They advanced on a sacrifice, then scored on Charlie Smith's double to left-center field.

Hickman, clouted a two-run homer in the second for the Mets' first two runs.

The Dodgers won their third straight game behind Phil Ortega's five-hit pitching and Willie Davis' hitting. Ortega, hurling his second major league shutout and his second triumph, struck out eight and walked four.

Davis drove in three runs, one in the Dodgers' four-run fourth when the Pirates committed three errors.

Dennis Benne stopped the Colts on five hits as he picked up his fourth victory in six decisions. The 24-year-old left-hander struck out six and walked only one. He also singled home the Phillies' first run in the second inning. They added three runs in the seventh, two on Richie Allen's single.

Julian Javier's grand slam home run in the first touched off a home-run spree for St. Louis. Jeff Long connected with a man aboard in the seventh before Charley James hit his second bases-empty blow of the game. Lee Mays belted a two-run homer for the Braves.

Cincinnati spoiled Larry Jackson's bid for his fifth straight victory, erupting for six runs in the third. The Reds banged out four singles and two doubles in the inning. Frank Robinson homered with one aboard in the second for the Reds while Billy Williams and Andre Rodgers homered for the Cubs.

Orioles' Teenage Hurler Upstages Veteran Pappas

By The Associated Press

When the winningest pitcher in Baltimore's 10-year American League tenure tosses a shutout before the home fans, collects two hits in three trips to the plate and still gets upstaged by a veteran of four major league appearances, he has to be bucking a hot attraction.

Milt Pappas found out what it's like to follow fuzzy-cheeked Wally Bunker's act Friday night when the two right-handers pitched the Orioles to a double-header sweep over Los Angeles.

Pappas blanked the Angels on eight hits and plunked a single and run-scoring double in Baltimore's 12-0 nightcap victory. But he played second banana to Bunker's 6-1 four-hit masterpiece—third straight complete-game victory for the 19-year-old bonus bird—in the opener.

The second-game decision was Pappas' 83rd as an Oriole and evened his 1964 record at 2-2. He was the same age as Bunker is now and a member of Baltimore's original Kiddie Korps when he won his first game.

Pappas arrived in a hurry eight years ago. Bunker came on like the untouchables—one hitting Washington in his season debut.

The $70,000 bonus sensation, less than a year removed from high school, has allowed two earned runs and 14 hits in 27 innings.

Pappas' shutout was one of four in AL activity. Chicago's John Buzhardt blanked Washington 2-0 on three hits, Minnesota's Camilo Pascual edged Boston's Bill Monbouquette 1-0 on a six-hitter and Kansas City's Diego Segui scattered nine hits and tamed New York 11-0.

Cleveland ripped Detroit 10-6 in the only game not marked by fine pitching.

Home runs by Luis Aparicio and John Orsino and Bob Johnson's two-run triple backed Bunker in the Orioles-Angels opener. Norm Siebern chipped in with three hits. The Angels scored their run on Jim Fregosi's triple and an infield out.

Pappas struggled for his shutout, stranding 10 LA base runners, but the outcome was decided when the Orioles scored six unearned runs in the fourth. Jackie Brandt hit a three-run homer in the eighth.

Buzhardt retired the last 18 batters he faced and won his third of five decisions. He struck out nine and walked one. The White Sox scored a tainted run in the third inning and Dave Nicholson singled home the other run in the sixth.

The Twins, held to three singles by Monbouquette through seven innings, won in the eighth on Frank Malone's error, a sacrifice and Bernie Allen's double. Minnesota's Tony Oliva raised his league-leading batting average to .425 with two singles and a double.

Rocky Colavito touched Yankee starter Ralph Terry for a second-inning homer—his 10th of the year—and singled home one of five Kansas City runs in the sixth, but had to leave the game when he was hit in the ankle by a line drive off the bat of teammate Dick Green. The A's completed the rout with five runs in the eighth.

The Indians scored three runs in the seventh, two on rookie Bob Chance's pinch hit homer, added a pair in the eighth on Larry Brown's double and pulled out of reach on ninth-inning homers by Jerry Kindall and Woodie Held. Norm Cash and Jerry Lumpe connected for Detroit.

Slow Pitch Opens Monday

The Escanaba Slow Pitch league will open its third season of action Monday night with games at Ludington and Dock diamonds.

A new league rule has been adopted which will permit a base runner one base on any ball that is hit and stays in the infield. Other rules remain unchanged.

Any new teams interested are asked to contact league officials.

The week's schedule, all games at 6:30.

Early Detroit Lead Vanishes; Cleveland Wins

DETROIT (AP)—If asked to name his pet peeves in baseball, Detroit Tigers Manager Charlie Dressen probably would write "excuse me" hits by the opposition at the head of the list.

Dressen bracketed three of four Cleveland hits in the second inning Friday night in this category.

"Excuse me" hits, for those unfamiliar with Dressenese, are hits which come after a batter has tried to duck away from a pitch or when the ball slithers just out of reach after being hit on the end of the bat.

The hits and Detroit starter Dave Wickersham's error enabled the Indians to tie the score at 3-3 in that second inning.

The Indians eventually knocked Wickersham out of the box and went on to gain a 10-6 verdict, remaining tied for first with the Chicago White Sox.

"I'm not saying Wickersham was good out there tonight," Dressen explained. "He is still bothered a bit by the groin injury he has."

"But I don't think I would have had to take him out if he had got out of that inning."

The Tigers staked Wickersham to a 3-0 lead in the first inning on a two-run home run by Norm Cash and a solo clout by Jerry Lumpe, the first of his career in Tiger Stadium. Both were hit off Pedro Ramos, who lasted just one inning.

Cleveland's first four batters in the second singled but Wickersham did not give up another hit until Fred Whitfield got his second of three singles in the sixth.

Pinch-hitter Bob Chance put Cleveland in front for good with a two-run homer off Wickersham in the seventh. It was the first homer off the tall right-hander this season.

Lumpe also had a double and a single and scored three runs to pace the Detroit attack in the losing cause. Dick Howser and Held each had two hits for Cleveland.

Ed Rakow and Jack Kralick were to be the starting pitchers in the second game of the four-game set this afternoon.

Hank Aguirre and Mickey Lolich are Dressen's choices for Sunday's twin-bill.

Softball Season Opener Reslated

President Bill Lancour of the Escanaba Softball Association announced this morning that the scheduled Sunday opening of the season has been postponed until May 24.

"The cold, wet weather makes it necessary to switch the season opener back one week," Lancour stated.

The coming week will be a busy one, however. A workbee is scheduled for each evening at 6 and practice games are slated for each night at 7:30. Also, a meeting of all managers and association officers will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 to set the final league plans.

The practice schedule: Monday, Teamsters vs. Mead No. 3; Tuesday, Hall Insurance vs. Flat Rock; Wednesday, Merchants vs. Bero Motors; Thursday, Mead No. 1 vs. Skinnys.

HOW TO CUT HEAT COSTS:

6 tips that can help you get more warmth from your heating oil dollars

Your Shell Heating Oil supplier recommends these 6 ways to reduce heating costs and have a more comfortable home:

1. Keep your oil burner clean. Today's Shell Heating Oil contains special additive FOA-5X. It helps keep critical burner parts free from clogging — assures better firing.
2. Guard against tank rust. Shell Sonitor anti-rust treatment helps protect your storage tank for one full year, at no extra cost.
3. Check your thermostat location. If your thermostat is in a stairwell, on an outside wall or near an outside entrance — it may cause your burner to operate more often than necessary.
4. Shut off radiators or registers in rooms that aren't in regular use.
5. When fireplaces are not in use, make sure dampers are securely shut.
6. Keep attic ventilators closed during the heating season.

Planning Studies Will Be Guide For Local Projects

When studies now being conducted for preparation of the city master plan are completed, they will be analyzed together and incorporated into a report on future land use for Manistique. As many elements are long range in scope, not all the proposals will be capable of immediate accomplishment, but they will serve as a reflection of overall community policy to aid day-to-day actions of private developers, home owners and the municipality.

Zoning, subdivision regulations, capital outlay programs, and urban renewal projects are among ways of realizing elements of the plan. The capital budget is a direct means of achieving objectives with urban renewal the more far-reaching, Vilcan-Leman Associates report. Land trades, property bequests, federal grants and tax delinquencies can speed implementation.

According to the Municipal Planning Commission Act (Act 285 P. A. 1931) the general role of the Planning Commission is "to make and adopt a master plan for the physical development of the municipality." The current 701 study represents the Commission's efforts to produce a master plan.

On completion, all or parts of the final plan may be adopted by the Planning Commission, is still an advisory document and does not bind the legislative body to carry out any of its proposals. The adopted plan gives the Planning Commission certain review and approval powers. However, the legislative body may over-rule any disapproval by a 2/3 majority of its entire membership.

Membership on the Commission is to represent insofar as possible different professions or occupations. No planning commissioner may receive compensation or hold another municipal office. All meetings of the Commission are open to the public.

Duties of the Commission are to study the community, analyze its potentials and evaluate development proposals. Professional assistance may be employed to carry out functions and duties, and may include planning consultants or planners or combinations.

School To Ask Extra Millage

The Brampton Township school board voted to ask the voters for millage of 1½ for operational expenses. During the fiscal year 1963-64, the membership of Brampton Township school decreased by 16 members. This decrease resulted in a loss of state aid money of approximately $3,600 this year.

Because of this situation, the Board decided to ask the voters for a mill and one-half for the next five years. This millage amounts to $1.50 per thousand dollar assessed valuation.

J. Walter VanDeWeghe is the only one who has filed for election of trustee on the Brampton Board. The annual school election will be held on Monday, June 8.

State Must Match U.S. In Esky Lab Fund

Plans of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to help create a new public health laboratory of the Michigan Department of Health in Escanaba to serve the Upper Peninsula were clarified today by HEW in a communication to Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Delta).

It came via U.S. Senator Pat McNamara's office. First announcement of the HEW from McNamara said it was granting $227,272 for the lab, with $125,000 as the first increment of the grant. This was incorrect.

Erlandsen said the clarification reveals that HEW is making a grant of $125,000 in federal funds for the laboratory, that the State of Michigan is expected to contribute $125,000 to complete financing the estimated total cost of $250,000.

HEW said it would replace two "outmoded facilities," one at Michigan Tech in Houghton, and one at Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers.

The Escanaba laboratory building will be one-story construction of fire-resistant type, and it will be attached to the State Office Building in Escanaba, which the State of Michigan is buying after July 1.

The City of Escanaba is providing the site for the addition on the southeast end of the building. The alley will be vacated to make possible joining of the addition directly to the present building.

The State Health Department lab here will make diagnostic, bacteriological, sanitary, chemical and serological tests and provide quarters for storage and dispensing of vaccines and other drugs. It is being designed by G. Arntzen Architects & Co. of Escanaba.

The State Legislature must renew its action of last year appropriating $125,000 of state funds for the project, Rep. Erlandsen said because the money was not used and reverted to the general fund. The project ran into opposition from Rep. Clifford Perras (R-Nadeau) who said it would cost the jobs of some of his constituents at Powers, if the lab there were transferred to Escanaba and merged with the lab from Tech to serve U.P. needs of the State Health Department. The Powers lab was never authorized by official state action, was launched casually by the Health Department when Pinecrest was a tuberculosis sanatorium.

Dr. Mary L. Cretnes, head of the Menominee-Delta Health Department said that hopefully the consolidated laboratory for the U.P. projected implications of an expanded State Health Department program in the Upper Peninsula.

Mrs. LaFave, 21, Of Nadeau Dies

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Home in Bark River after 1 p.m. Sunday and the parish rosary will be recited there at 8 p.m. Services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Francis Xavier with Father Walter Franczek officiating. Burial will be in Spalding Cemetery.

Engineers Club In Summer Recess

Members of the Bay de Noc Engineers Club enjoyed their final monthly dinner at the Sherman Hotel last night before recessing for the summer. President Robert Groos presented Maury DeBroux of the Wisconsin Bearing Co., who sponsored the evening program.

Specialists from SKF Industries and the IRD Corporation presented a program on the correct and abusive applications of modern roller bearings, and on the new techniques for detecting unbalanced parts or impending bearing failures while the machine is running.

One-fourth, or 25 million persons, of the population of Europe died of bubonic plague in the 14th century.

U.P. Economic Growth Will Lag Behind U.S.

The Upper Peninsula hasn't had the economic growth enjoyed by the rest of the nation in the decade 1950-60, Frederick L. Deming, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, told U. P. members of the Michigan Bankers Association here this morning, and a projection for the next 15 years doesn't promise gains proportionate with those of the nation.

But the projection does indicate gains, Deming told the bankers in the House of Ludington. Fred H. Hahne, Manistiquette, president of Group 1, MBA, presided.

Many persons are concerned, said Deming, with the relationship of monetary controls and economic growth. He said interest rates should not be too high to discourage borrowing, nor too low to discourage saving.

The Upper Peninsula, he said, had 302,000 population in 1950, 306,000 in 1960 and a projected 327,000 in 1975. The gain per year in 1950-60 was near zero at 0.012 per cent.

Projected by Prof. James M. Henderson of the University of Minnesota for the Upper-Midwest Research & Development Council in a survey of the northern Midwest economy is a U. P. population gain of 0.045 per cent per year to 1975.

14,000 Jobs Lost
This is a "neutral projection" not a forecast, explained Deming. It projects what the U. P. will keep as its share of the market (economy) in projected growth of the U. S. economy in the 15 years after 1960. The actuality of what happens may be worse or better than the projection.

In 1950-60 the U. P. lost 14,000 jobs; of which 6,400 were in agriculture, 7,200 in manufacturing, 1,600 in mining and 1,100 in railroading. This was offset by 300 jobs gained in non-government activities and 2,000 in government (air bases, etc.) so net loss of jobs was 14,000.

The U. P. unemployment rate in 1960 was 10.5 per cent, which it about is now, he said. The labor force is 103,000, which is 37 per cent of the population compared with the 38.5 U. S. average.

If the U. P. holds its position in the U. S. economy in the next 15 years to 1975 it will gain a net 6,000 jobs, but still lose 4,300 in mining, agriculture and railroading. It will pick up 1,700 in manufacturing, 6,000 in other activities and 2,500 in government employment. The labor force will grow about 5,000.

Gains Projected
U. P. population grew 0.12 per year in 1950-60, the labor force didn't grow and employment grew 1.56 per cent per year. In 1960-75 the population gain will be 0.45 per cent, the labor force 0.32 and the employment rate 0.47.

These are one-fourth of the U. S. rate of growth, said Deming. "This is not a prediction, but a projection" (of existing conditions) he said "and it underlines the takeoff point. To increase the Upper Peninsula's share of the economy we must increase its share of the markets."

In 1950 per capita (person) income of the U. P. was $1,409 in 1960 it was $1,611 and the projection for 1975 is $2,297.

Briefly Told

Edwin Putnam, Disabled American Veterans field service officer from the Iron Mountain V. A. Hospital, will be in the Escanaba City Hall Monday from noon to 3 p. m. to interview veterans requesting assistance. The announcement is made by Bernard Larson, adjutant, Escanaba DAV Chapter.

A marriage license has been issued at the County Clerk's Office to Marvin J. Krause, 1914 23rd Ave. S., Escanaba, and Sharon Lynn Lewis, Rte. 2, Petoskey.

Alfred J. Lavigne of Bark River Rte. 2 was ticketed Friday by Escanaba police for failing to stop in the assured clear distance. He was driver of a car that struck an auto driven by Robert Lorey, 2605 Lake Shore, which had stopped in the 500 block, Stephenson Ave., to make a turn and was waiting for oncoming traffic. Lorey complained to police of a neck injury.

Gladstone State Police issued tickets to the following motorists: Gilbert Stendahl, 1504 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, expired half year license plates; Ralph Thomas Thibault, Garden, defective muffler; Celestine Joseph Blanchette, Gladstone Rte. 1, and Roland Joseph Pelton, 515 S. 12th St., Escanaba, disregarding stop sign; Robert Leo Starnes, 1410 N. 23rd St., Escanaba, no valid license on vehicle.

The percentage of increase per year is 2.38 per capita, allowing for projected outmigration. "If we take the makeup of the employment structure of Escanaba in 1950," said Deming "and apply the U. S. rates we see what the national rate would have done here and what actually happened. In the study of 10 U. P. communities we have the structure anticipated labor force change in 1950-60 and none of cities attained the anticipated gain."

U. P. Cities Surveyed
Laurium, Menominee, Negaunee, Iron River, Iron 7 Mountain and Houghton did not gain. Marquette, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie and Manistiquette had positive gains, but not as big as the structure anticipated. Escanaba had an anticipated gain of 0.88 per cent per year and actually had 0.14 per cent gain.

"The Sault did best. (In 1960) It should have had 1.50 per cent and actually grew 1.31 per cent. Marquette had 1.55 anticipated and grew 0.86."

Deming said a more highly educated labor force was a need of U. P. income gain.

A panel discussion this morning reviewed the bankers plans for a Northern Michigan School of Banking at Marquette in late February and early March at Northern Michigan University. Panelists were Harold S. Fisher, moderator, NMU; Elwood Mattson, Marquette; K. J. Finlayson, Sault Ste. Marie; A. J. Picucci, Iron Mountain and Len Altobello, Ishpeming.
